

The image shows a postcard template with a white background. It is framed by a solid black border. Inside this, there is a dashed green border. Centered within the template is a list of instructions in a dark gray, sans-serif font. The text is arranged in seven lines, with varying levels of indentation to create a hierarchical structure. The first line is the title, followed by four lines of color-coded instructions, and the last line specifies the color mode and resolution.
